Who will benefit from this training?

Whether you are new to the field or a seasonal practitioner at any level of government, the private sector, or a not-for-profit organization, the experienced team at Canadian Trainers Collective (CTC) will help you improve your public and stakeholder engagement programs with their IAP2 courses.

IAP2 Foundations in Public Participation

Foundations in P2 is a professional development program designed with the input of successful practitioners who work with diverse populations and divergent circumstances throughout the world. This program is divided into two modules, each focusing on one of the two major phases of public participation – planning and techniques. This program will let you hit the ground running – armed with the knowledge and confidence you need to plan and execute effective initiatives for any area in which you may be working. Upon completion of both modules, participants will receive a certificate of completion from IAP2.

Planning for Effective P2

A major reason that initiatives fail to reach their goals is inadequate preparation. The planning module provides you with a proven structure for developing a public participation plan to fit any size of project. This course is a prerequisite for the subsequent module – Techniques for Effective P2.*

Techniques for Effective P2

Once you have completed the planning course, you are ready to add 50+ practical tools and methodologies to your public participation toolkit. This course provides an introduction to a range of practical tools and techniques used at all five levels of IAP2's Public Participation Spectrum.

IAP2 P2 for Senior Executives/Decision Makers

Do you want your senior administrators and executives to know more about why public participation is important to your organization?

Strategies for Dealing with Opposition & Outrage in P2

This course brings together the collective knowledge and experience of outrage management as taught by Dr. Peter Sandman, and public participation as practiced by IAP2.
