

Understanding the Why and Then the How of Accessibility

Come to learn about the 'dEMAND' Study that examines social participation and barriers experienced by mobility device users.

Can we all do more as planners, policy makers, engineers, developers, etc. to make accessibility better for all?

When: APRIL 4th, 2019

Where: Annex - Collingwood Neighbourhood House
3690 Vanness Ave, Vancouver

Time: 3-6pm, Presentations: 4:30

Cost: PIBC Members $25, Non-Members $35
Students $15 + GST

CPL: 3 Units

Guests – Folks various levels of Abilities (Introductions at Event)

Ben Mortenson, B.Sc. OT, M.Sc., Ph.D., OT, Associate Professor, Department of of Occupational Science & Occupational Therapy, Faculty of Medicine, UBC

Delphine Labbé, Ph.D., Department of Occupational Science & Occupational Therapy, UBC

Atiya Mahmood, Ph.D., Associate Professor, Department of Gerontology, SFU

Brad McCannell, Vice President, Access and Inclusion, Rick Hansen Foundation

Justin Hall, Streetscape & Pedestrian Planner, Engineering, Parks & Environment,

City of North Vancouver