

Manager, Engagement and Social Enterprise
Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue

Join an exciting and entrepreneurial work environment, where you will play a pivotal role in strengthening the democratic process, decreasing polarization and creating positive and enduring social change. As the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue Manager, Engagement and Social Enterprise, you will oversee the delivery of public engagement projects on behalf of government clients while financially sustaining the social enterprise by acquiring new revenue sources and developing the business to its full potential. Recent projects include a national deliberative dialogue on energy issues, a consultation on BC's mental health and addiction strategy, and public engagement on a municipal land use decision. This position will combine the hard work and pragmatism of a consulting practice with the satisfaction of facilitating meaningful citizen and stakeholder involvement into many of Canada's most pressing policy issues. Parking your own political beliefs will be essential as you help to create space for others to express diverse viewpoints.

SFU is committed to employment equity, welcomes diversity in the workplace and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, members of visible minorities, Aboriginal persons and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply, although Canadians and Permanent Residents will be given priority.

Application deadline: November 12, 2018
