

The Regenerative Practitioner

Greater Vancouver, Canada

The Regenerative Practitioner™ (TRP) series is an in-depth exploration of the core concepts and frameworks that define the practice of regenerative development, a process and methodology for bringing human cities, towns, communities back into alignment with the ecological systems that are foundational to planetary health.

The TRP series introduces proprietary regenerative development technologies that have been developed and field tested by Regenesis over the past two decades.

We are inviting working practitioners spanning multiple disciplines and sectors to undertake this learning with the support of a local community of practice to envision a regenerative future for the Greater Vancouver Area.

The three-month course, structured as a series of weekly online dialogue, begins August 2, 2018 and culminates in a 3.5 day in-person intensive gathering October 25 to 28 at Bowen Island Lodge.

The Vancouver cohort has a limited number of seats and will include a mix of local and non-local participants. The deadline for local participants to be considered for priority placement has been extended to June 1. Non-local participants are currently being admitted into a limited number of spaces on a first-come, first-serve basis and are thus encouraged to apply as soon as possible. For information on scholarships, please refer to the application through the web link below.

For more information contact: Kathy Porter at porterkath@gmail.com, 778-474-1008, or 250-540-8621.

To register: <https://regenesisgroup.com/the-regenerative-practitioner-vancouver>