

Build Stronger Development Teams

Projects are harder to deliver than ever. Give your team the knowledge to navigate today's development environment with confidence.

The Real Estate and Development (RaD) Management Program is designed for anyone working in or alongside BC's development industry, including developers, planners, consultants, contractors, architects, engineers, and municipal staff.

Why Invest in RaD?

- Practical training built around real BC projects
- Flexible online learning that fits around work
- Learn from professionals actively working across BC's development industry
- Eligible for professional development credits, including PIBC CPL units and BC Housing CPD points
- Complete the full program and earn a Real Estate & Development Micro-Credential through Royal Roads University

The Complete Development Journey

Nine courses covering every stage of development from securing land and financing to bringing new homes and buildings to market.

Course 1 Introduction to Pro Formas

Course 2 Securing Land

Course 3 Concept Development

Course 4 Managing Project Financing

Course 5 Law and Development

Course 6 Planning and Approvals

Course 7 Technical Studies

Course 8 Community Relations

Course 9 Marketing, Sales and Leasing

Earn a Royal Roads University Micro-Credential

Complete all nine courses and the capstone project to earn an industry-recognized Real Estate & Development Micro-Credential through Royal Roads University.

What Participants Are Saying

“ RaD gave me a framework for understanding the full development cycle. ”

Thomas Siekman, Project Coordinator

“ RaD broadened my understanding of the development process and the collaboration needed to deliver successful projects. ”

Stephanie Leforte,
Land Advisory Practice Lead & Senior Project Manager

Save 10% Pre-Register & Save

Register by September 15th and save 10%.
Save up to $550 when you pre-register for the full program.

Learn More

<https://udi.org/education/rad>

